Dear Friends,

Teachers are builders of the nation. They are the real masons who lay the foundation of nation committed to the growth and development of values. The success of the student depends essentially upon the competence of teachers, their sense of dedication and their identification of the interests of students. A society cannot progress without the help of good teachers.

AAKSC is established in order to share my learning and experience with you. I have a firm believe that God has never given dreams without ability to achieve them. These dreams can be achieved only by the dedicated mentors & hard-work of dreamer.

A subject can be simplified, if a learner gets proper guidance to see it from different angles. I had proven in my teaching career (since 1996) that it can be simplified by systematic and friendly approach. Learning anything require positive attitude and strong desire to attain perfection in it.

In these crucial years, students & their families go through a tough time, they need a place where they can found a friend who can dilute their worries & has empathy with them. Our testimonials indicates that we always try to be the one.

AAKSC is a platform for students to explore their potentials. We not only take care of academic aspects but also emphasize on social and environmental issues through SAMCHETNA and AAKSC PARIVAR.

So lets simplify chemistry with joint efforts.

Make learning as simple as drinking water.

Anurag sir has played a key role in my 2 years of JEE preparations. His unique style of teaching makes chemistry very interesting and easy to grasp. Online lectures, regular dpps and tests have helped me quite a lot to cope up with the vast syllabus of JEE and have a structured preparation for the exam. I have always admired the way Anurag sir have special doubt sessions which have helped to clear all my doubts. Because of Anurag sir I have developed a strong inclination towards chemistry and I am able to understand and explain the chemistry around me. I will always be thankful of sir for his teaching and guidance.

Anurag Sir is a unique mentor because of his passion for teaching & devotion to his students. He is always approachable & has the ability to simplify the most difficult of topics. His simple yet thorough notes made a huge difference. I am indeed fortunate to have met sir at the most crucial time of my studies. I shall always be indebted to him.

I joined AAKSC in 2013 for my JEE Advanced 2015 exam. Chemistry which was a mystery for me till my 10th class, did not interest me as Physics and Mathematics did, but Anurag sir's simple yet effective way of teaching the most difficult concepts made chemistry one of my favorite subjects and I ^{started} scoring well in my tests and school exams. The dedication and effort he puts in his teaching inspired me to give my full efforts in learning also. Regular Tests, assignments, Grand Tests, STAPS helped me take care of JEE Mains, Advanced and Boards also.

Hello Anurag Sir,

I am deeply grateful to be a student of AAKSC during the most crucial moments of my education. Your guidance, punctuality and dedication towards each and every student is very appreciable.

I would like to mention how important the doubt sessions before the classes were to me, for my overall understanding of the subject. I can now say that chemistry with you was not rote learning but understanding and visualizing.

The good habits of making the schedule of tomorrow, one night before or highlighting the key points in my notebook or solving the well designed assignments focused on analytical and logical approach made my JEE journey clear and sorted.

You inspired me to set my one and only goal and put all my efforts in it, whether I succeeded or not. All the small efforts you put in for us did pay out.

Thank you sir for the patience and faith you put in me. It was an amazing experience learning and developing overall with you.

Concern for School Exams

BOARD exams/school exams are very important. In AAKSC, we had never ignored school examinations. We take extra care for all term exams as well as finals. In Class XI, it is difficult to cope up with syllabus of school exams, but we expect that parents should understand our concern. Every year we are making changes as per the need of changes in pattern of learning. We had added weekly subjective tests to develop writing skills and complete solution book for NCERT and Exemplar. Our dedication for school exams is reflected from our board results.

THE CHEMISTRY OF COLOURED GLASS

Glass is coloured in 3 main ways. It can have transition or rare earth metal ions added; it can be due to colloidal particles formed in the glass; or it can be due to particles which are coloured themselves. This graphic shows some of the typical chemical elements that are used to colour glass.

SODA-LIME GLASS

COMPOSITION

SiO₂ 70-74%
SILICON DIOXIDE

CaO 10-14%
CALCIUM OXIDE

Na₂O 13-16%
SODIUM OXIDE

Soda-lime glass is the most common glass type, making up an estimated 90% of all manufactured glass. Its uses include containers, windows, bottles, and drinking glasses. The above percentages are a general composition only; other compounds are also present in smaller amounts.

IRON
Fe²⁺

These are typical colours, and can be affected by the type of glass as well as the concentration of the colourant. Combination with other elements and compounds can also have an effect on the final colouration of the glass.

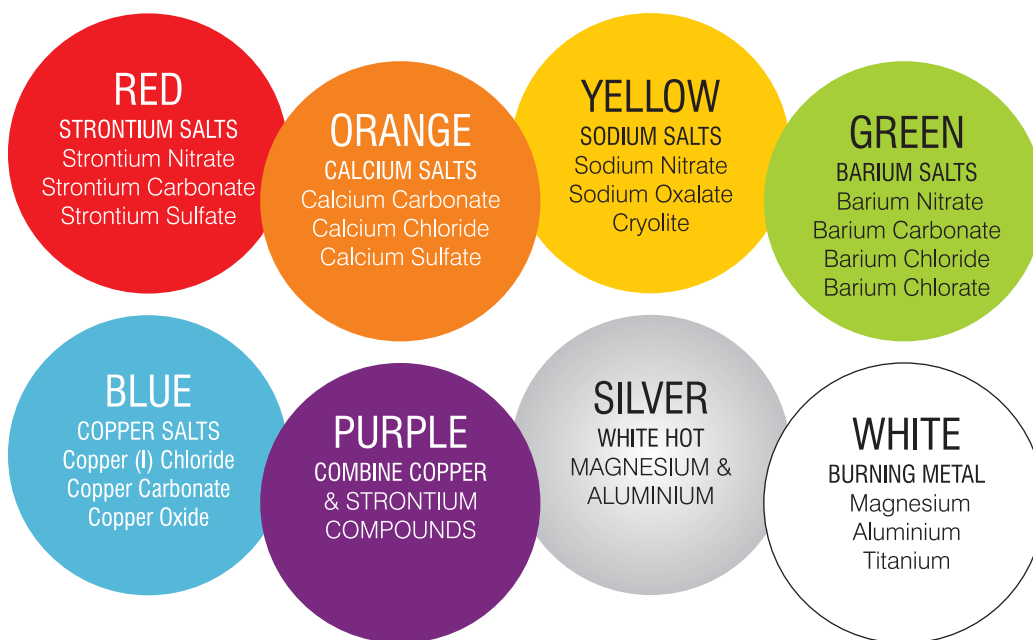

Information can be collected from any book or any person who is more qualified than us is a particular stream, but learning and understanding require a strong desire in both the mentor & mentee.

A good teacher not only inform but develop subject in the disciples. Get benefit of 23 years of experience, visualisation & right direction to the career

No compromises on career - as it does not affect only one person but society & generation associated with him/her.
